Isaiah 49:15-16 (NIV)

```
D                        G
Can a mother forget the baby at her breast
     D                          A
and have no compassion on the child she has borne
       D
though she may forget,
G                       D      A          D
I will not forget you - I will not forget you
G                                 D
See, I have engraved you on the palms of My hands
A                 D
I will not forget you
G                                 D
See, I have engraved you on the palms of My hands
A                 D
I will not forget you

D                      G
Jesus won't forget me, Isaiah 49
D               A
15 and 16, I am always on His mind
       D                        G
When I feel like no one cares, Jesus understands
              D                    A           D
That's why He wrote my name on the palms of His hands.

D                        G
Can a mother forget the baby at her breast
     D                          A
and have no compassion on the child she has borne
       D
though she may forget,
G                       D      A          D
I will not forget you - I will not forget you
G                                 D
See, I have engraved you on the palms of My hands
A                 D
I will not forget you
G                                 D
See, I have engraved you on the palms of My hands
A                 D     G   D A D
I will not forget you
