

Proverbs 22:6 (KJV)

Train up a child in the way he should go:
and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Lord, help me to be diligent - to raise each child for You

So that I may claim verse 6 - of Proverbs 22

Many parents try to claim this verse - once the child has grown

But they did not do the training part - when their child was still at home

Train up a child in the way he should go:
and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Train up a child in the way he should go:
and when he is old, he will not depart from it.
