Psalm 39:8 (TLB)

```
D                   G
Save me from being overpowered by my sins,
    D                        A
for even fools will mock me then
D                   G
Save me from being overpowered by my sins,
     D          A            D
for even fools will mock me then

D                                 G
Flee from Sin - before it is too late
D                                 A
Fools will laugh at you - Psalm 39, verse 8
      D                   G
Everybody knows how a Believer should behave
    D                   A            D
But sin is strong - and only God can save

D                   G
Save me from being overpowered by my sins,
    D                        A
for even fools will mock me then
D                   G
Save me from being overpowered by my sins,
     D          A            D     G   D A D
for even fools will mock me then
